Three words that define a good leader:
Action, collaboration, inspiration

What is the most rewarding moment of your career to date?

Launching the Ashukan Cultural Space in 2015, which is the first cultural and economic incubator dedicated for active inclusion Aboriginal arts and artists in Quebec, Canada and Internationally.

And the most challenging moment of your career?

Setting up my Indigenous non-for-profit organization and facing systemic racism and program exclusion.

Name one woman who inspires you and why?

Buffy St-Marie is an Indigenous artist (singer/songwriter/painter/videographer), humanitarian, teacher, activist, change maker who has a long history behind her, at 74 years old she has just released her twentieth album, Power In The Blood on May 12, 2015.

Why did you decide to attend #WFMX17?

To give a voice and representation for the work I do and bring awareness to the matriarchal resurgence of indigenous women in social and economic empowerment.

What do you expect from Women's Forum Mexico 2017?

Connect with women leadership across nations.

What kind of leaders -or who- are you looking forward to meeting at #WFMX17?

Leaders engaged in social change, leaders engaged in Policy development for inclusion and equity, leaders for social advancement of women.

A book or a film on leadership that you would like to recommend to your fellow delegates?

Women Who Run With the Wolves: Myths and Stories of the Wild Woman Archetype by Clarissa Pinkola Estés
